APPLICATIONS

HMPV is a respiratory virus responsible for infections ranging from mild cold-like symptoms to severe conditions such as bronchitis and pneumonia. Discovered in 2001, it predominantly affects vulnerable groups, including young children, older adults, and those with weakened immune systems.

As a leading cause of bronchiolitis, HMPV spreads through contact with infected respiratory fluids or contaminated surfaces. Common symptoms include cough, wheezing, fever, and shortness of breath, making early detection crucial for effective management.
